Subject: Provisional Identification Number NJP000791236

Dear Sir/Madam:

You were recently issued a provisional EPA Identification Number on an emergency basis. The number will expire thirty (30) days from date of issuance, and its use thereafter will not be recognized. This provisional number is only valid for hazardous waste activity at the specific site authorized. Enclosed is a Provisional Number Questionnaire and a Notification of Hazardous Waste Activity (Form 8700-12) package. The completed form and questionnaire should be returned within ten (10) working days after your receipt of this letter to:

Laura J. Livingston, Chief
Permits Administration Branch - Room 505
U. S. Environmental Protection Agency
26 Federal Plaza
New York, New York 10278

Your submittal of the attached forms will enable you to comply with the requirements of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), and provide a record of your emergency during the thirty day life span of the provisional ID number. Failure to return these materials may result in assessment of a civil penalty.

433807

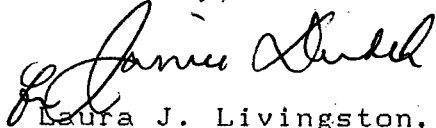

If you anticipate any hazardous waste activity under RCRA beyond the allowed thirty (30) days, you should indicate this fact to us in a letter submitted with the forms. We will then assign a regular EPA ID number to this site and you will be notified. Your letter should also state whether or not your activity will include the treatment, storage or disposal of hazardous wastes as defined by RCRA. If one or more of these activities are anticipated, you may be required to apply for, and obtain a hazardous waste management permit.

If all operations at the site for which this provisional number has been issued are terminated within thirty (30) days you will not need to obtain a regular EPA ID number, although you must still complete the questionnaire. Extensions of provisional numbers for a short period beyond thirty (30) days will be granted only under extenuating circumstances, and only if the questionnaire and notification form have been returned to this office.

Please submit manifest forms to the appropriate state agencies.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, you may write to me at the above address, or contact my staff at (212) 264-9880. The Hazardous Waste Compliance Branch will also answer questions in this regard and can be reached at (212) 264-8356. Your cooperation in the RCRA program is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Laura J. Livingston, Chief
